Blairmore Council Regular Meeting

The fortnightly meeting of the Blairmore city fathers was held on Monday night, Mayor Lyon, Councillors Drain, McLeod, Beebe, Hinds and Sinclair being present.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted, and the following communications received:

Mayor Oumette, of Coleman as to whether Blairmore had a by-law respecting nuisance ground and town scavenger. Secretary was asked to inform Mr. Oumette that no such by-law was in use at present.

Several communications from Brent Noxan & Co., Regina, regarding option on debenture bonds were received, and the copies of replies forwarded by the Mayor and secretary-treasurer were ratified. Option time was extended definitely to March 10th, within which period Brent Noxan & Co. hoped to be able to transact a deal.

Western Canada Fire Underwriters Association of Winnipeg recommended an equipment for fire fighting purposes, which would be necessary to secure a reduction in insurance rates. If such an equipment would be installed the rate would be reduced about 15%.

The following accounts were read and ordered paid: Trusts & Novelty Co. for dog tags $5.62; Canadian Fairbanks Morse Co. for gate valves $55.00 (ordered laid over); Jns. Contina for digging up water connections $6.60; Pacific Const. Pipe Co. $810.37 January Telephone $12.20; W. J. Bartlett for stationery $10.50; J. R. Irwin $100.00; C. Hiscocks $35.70.

The committee appointed to investigate and report on the free fire hall site and nuisance ground, reported as follows:

Hon. Mayor and Council—Your committee to whom was referred the communication of the West Canadian Collieries Limited, offering a free site for Municipal building and a site for a nuisance ground, beg to report that—

1. It would not be in keeping with established rules to place a fire hall outside the fire limits.

2. We find no registered plan of lots mentioned.

3. We find no established road, nor any allowance for a road to said proposed nuisance ground, and further if the property should be mortgaged the mortgagees would have to release mortgage before said lease could be valid and received.

4. If for no other reason, we feel that it would be unwise and not for the best interest of the ratepayers to accept the offer as made.

Hillcrest Social a Banner Success

The first concert, basket social and dance given by the Hillcrest Football club on Monday evening proved to be a success far beyond the anticipations of the club's most optimistic supporters. We believe the whole affair sets a new mark in the class of Pastime entertainments, although it is almost certain that it is only in Hillcrest such a successful amateur concert is possible. The proceedings opened at 8.30 with a short speech from J. S. Quigley, the president of the club, in which he thanked the audience for the manner in which they had turned out in such poor weather to give their support to their team and hoped that at the end of the season the club's record for 1913 would compare favorably with their achievements of the previous year.

The concert was opened by Messrs. Petrie and Bradshaw with an overture on the piano and violin. Sam Paton was then called upon and the hearty applause at the end of his "By the Old Mill Stream" persuaded him to favor us with "Mary." Mrs. Grimshaw followed him, singing "Under the Deadend" in a first class manner and was compelled by an appreciative audience to return to the stage, giving in answer to the calls for an encore "Down the Vale." Will Owen was next on the program his "Froggy would a wooing go" being encored again and again. A duet by Mrs. Fred Wolstenholme and Mrs. Willfred Wolstenholme was much appreciated, these ladies receiving a prolonged ovation. Miss Thomas, upon being called gave a monologue that enabled her to exhibit her superior talent as a mimic, bringing down the house at the end of her sketch. Mrs. Abe Dodd, the Hillcrest pioneer and favorite with all, gave us "Darby and Joan" in her own inimitable way, her songs receiving the encore of the evening. Messrs. Robert Petrie and Jas. Logan, two braw laddies from the Ian's o' cakes, brought the first part of the evening's program to a close with a skit on the pipes, this being well received by a now jolly audience of boosters.

The auction of the numerous baskets received was the next item on the program: Mr. Quigley took the part of the auctioneer and needless to say made good at it. The judges of the baskets found it a very difficult job to decide which were the most beautiful and original baskets, the array of

Brewery Company Elects New Directors

The adjourned meeting of the Blairmore Brewing & Malt-ling Co., was held in the office of the company on Saturday afternoon and was largely attended.

The business of the meeting included the ratification of the action of the directors in borrowing the sum of $14,500 from the Royal Bank of Canada, and obtaining the sanction of the shareholders to borrow an amount necessary, not exceeding $35,000.

The Auditor's report was received, and placed on file.

The election of a new board of directors formed part of the evening's business and resulted in the election of Messrs. W. A. Beebe, Colin Macleod, Fred Pelletier and E. Morino. There are yet three others to be elected at a meeting to be convened in the near future.

Baskets being extremely pretty and many very original decorations being noticed among the collection. The prize for most original was awarded to Miss Kell, her basket representing a football field, with Hillcrest and Burnside going to it in a way that reminded one of the memorable game played by these two teams last season when Hillcrest played their only losing game of the season. The prize for most beautiful basket was awarded to Mrs. J. Grimshaw, her decoration representing a footballer in Hillcrest colors holding the Cup won last season surrounded by a pretty array of flowers.

The prizes being awarded the work of selling the baskets commenced in earnest. The first basket put up for sale brought six dollars and when the first five had been disposed of for twenty seven dollars a big pleased smile was noticeable on the faces of the various members of the Club Committee. In all twenty six baskets were received and sold, fetching $146.00, an average price of $5.60 for each basket. The highest price fetched by any one basket was $15.00, Miss Jessie Thomas' basket being knocked down at that figure.

The door receipts amounted to $40.50, making a total for the evening's receipts of $206.50. We venture to make the assertion that this constitutes the record amount raised by any football club at any one time between Medicine Hat and Cranbrook, and unless we are advised to the contrary we shall enlarge our limits and include all Western Canada from Winnipeg to the coast.

The social part of the evening's entertainment went off very well indeed. Sandwiches and coffee had been very kindly supplied by Mrs. Petrie and those who were not fortunate enough to secure a basket were thus enabled to get a little refreshment before starting in on the three hours' dance that finished off the evening.

With this amount of money in hand Hillcrest has every reason to believe that at the present time their football club is the richest in the Pass. We trust that at the end of the season they will have been the most successful.

Frank, Alta., Fri., Feb. 28, 1913

There Is Still a Ray of Hope

The work of moving the town of Frank has been temporarily suspended, and will not likely be resumed before some time in the latter part of March.

Up to the present a great work has been accomplished

by contractors Scott and Palmer, and the balance of the town, principally the business section has somewhat of a dilapidated and desolate appearance.

Practically all of the Coal

Company's dwellings have been removed to the new townsite, where some seventy of them now occupy new positions on temporary foundations, the foundation work to be completed during the coming spring.

The plan of the Dominion government towards the cost of moving the town has not yet materialized, and is anxiously looked for to assist in the work this spring. Some five or six thousand dollars was contributed for the purpose by the provincial government on the grounds that the Dominion government make a similar liberal appropriation.

As it stands at present, part of the town has been removed outside the danger zone and part of it still remains on the area which the government's commission contend is in danger of being wiped out by a repetition of the big slide of 1903.

The old road over the slide is also still in use and the lives of a travelling public are surely in peril should there be such a pending possibility of the Turtle mountain taking another tumble. Most of the residents of Frank and vicinity express no fear, but in spite of such fact stringent steps should be taken to safeguard the public until all fear of danger

can be relieved.

Frank is still going to be a recognized town on the map of Canada, and the outlook for the present year and years to come are the brightest imaginable. Apart from the difficulties that have beset the town

since the 1903 slide, new industries are being promoted which will materialize into the making of Frank into one of the best wage-earning centres in the province.

The re-organization of the Coal Company will give considerable new blood and impetus to the development of the mines, and when such re-organization has been effected the scale of advancement will not be along any minor lines. It is expected that the new company will start full-scale developments early in the month of May.

The Crow's Nest Cement Co.

are also finalizing plans for their mammoth project which will become one of the greatest strong-backs that any town in the west could boast of. This company has a capital of $2,000,000 and has acquired an admirable site in the west portion of the town where they will establish a mammoth cement plant modern equipment in every particular, which will ensure a monthly pay-roll of upwards of $25,000.

First both the towns of Frank and Blairmore are destined to become famous among the manufacturing towns of Canada is assured, when it is already a fact that within a radius of two miles there will be upwards of $1,000,000 outlay for the manufacture of cement and lime, several coal mines owned and developed by strong companies, and other vast industries on foot or under consideration.

Loyalty

(By Sam Atkinson in Cotton's Weekly)

"$35,000,000 devoted to the purpose of increasing the British navy in order that we can still keep singing 'Britons Never Shall be Slaves.' The man who introduces this measure stated that he was willing to make it $365,

000,000, if needed. Yet in the half free country we break the law to inflict hardship upon our greatest pioneers. The miners are going laury in Portuque with the temperature 20 degrees below zero. They are fighting for economic freedom such as has been granted to the miners in British Columbia. The loyal blathersskites who are boasting Canada are shipping in seals to break the strike contrary to the law of the country.

Not only that, but the employed

United States detective agency to send men across the line to shoot

these poor fellows down upon the slightest provocation. These shams not only followed instructions to the letter, but obliged the mine owners by shooting the miners without any provocation.

At all this has more liberty

in Canada than an honest man who is a producer of wealth.

Love of country means love of property and love of humanity

has no place in Canada today."

Salvation Army

Bringing Immigrants

Arrangements have been made by Salvation Army immigration department to bring a large number of immigrants to this province during the present season to engage in farm and domestic service. These people will come from Great Britain and a large number from rural districts accustomed to work on the land.

The people who come under the auspices of the Army are of a very desirable class and of good reputation, being selected by experienced agents who are familiar with the conditions of the workers Canadian farming conditions call for. The first conducted party of farm hands

will sail on the "Empress of Britain"

Feb. 21st. As there will be a large demand for laborers for railway construction this spring,

farmers who desire to secure help, married or single, experienced, should at once get in touch with the Army, write for application forms to the Salvation Army immigration officer, 221 Rupert

Married EntertainmentThe Bachelors

On Sunday night last Baker's Beauties were the guests of Lyon's Lions at the Alberta hotel, and needless to say were given a right royal treat.

One of the finest spreads ever placed before a bunch of hungry-looking sports was laid on two tables around which sat the hosts and their guests to the number of thirty, each wearing such pleasing expressions that sure would have made many of the would-be Sweet Twenty-ones of the opposite sex sit back and wonder if there wasn't an opportunity slipping by in which they should endeavor to become the side-kicker of a man.

The menu included the following, which Charlie Roy thought well to arrange in rhyme:—

MINU

"There was oyster soup and cocktail,
Lobster salad and pickled beet,
Baked whitefish with lemon sauce
That was anything but sweet,
Vanilla sauce on fritters
With pineapple in the core,
Macaroni cheese—Italian style—
Tenderloin steak and more,
Ox tongue with Spanish sauce boiled,
Spring chicken roast and dressed,
That made the party wonder how They're going to face the rest,
Beef, lamb and pork and apples and corn
Assorted pie and bread,
A great strawberry pudding
Or a layer cake instead.
All this with fruits and nuts galore
Went on to make a meal
That sure would make one sympathize
With that after-dinner feat."

After dinner followed stories of by-gone days, when our forefathers used the dory paddie as a hockey stick and never dreamed of hitting a follow on the "nug" or the face protruder under a mistake for the puck, when only the bachelors who hadn't a tootsy-tootsy at home were permitted to engage in such rough-and-tumble scraps as hockey, and when the referee would not torture the audience of onlookers by shouting at a natural hockeyist, such as is connected with the married team of Blairmore, when perchance he chooses to leap up among the light globes, or higher if Providence will ever permit. Mr. Bigelow, as the star of the married stiffs, related some of his experiences in such rough games as baseball, hockey, dominoes, poker, checkers and ping-pong, stating that often while engaged in these games his life was in jeopardy. Other married men gave vent to their past experience, but it was very noticeable that not one of them ventured to mention the most trying game of their lives through which woeing they won and were not under any obligation to treat their comrades as on the present occasion.

Mr. Dawson, one of the best checkmen on the married team, could not be present at the chicken supper, so the boys very thoughtfully gathered up the bones that remained and sent a messenger boy to Mr. Dawson's house with them.

The hosts included H. E. Lyon, R. M. Brisco, A. Morency, M. B. Dawson, H. U. Bigelow, H. B. Campbell and F. E. Hinds.

The guests included H. Paul, G. Hanson, J. B. Irwin, H. F. Tate, G. R. Roy, H. Pinkey, A. H. Baker, C. Hisecks and W. J. Bartlett.

It was the desire of the host that each bachelor bring along a lady between the age of 19 and 21, but either Blairmore possesses no affinities of such an advanced age or they feign would admit the fact of their having passed the threshold of the teen age, none would put in an appearance.

Messrs. Hinds and Brisco led in the singing of that very appropriate but painful melody "Don't I long to be single again," and response followed by Messrs. Irwin and Paul pathetically rendering variations on "Now you're married, you must obey."

There is yet another game to be played by the married and single teams, when it is hope that the married men will place themselves in a position to be able to smile back at the bachelors.

Hockey

The league game played between Blairmore and Coleman on the Blairmore rink Friday night resulted in a win for Coleman.

At times throughout the game some of the Colemanites did not express a desire to entertain the tugging of referee White and judge display Grace, and wandered so far from the true sporting spirit as to hold closed fists ready for any opening for encounter. Some others, who were considerably propelled by the overtaxing of their knee tanks, expressed a free desire for fight, but their actions were soon quelled by the application of good sound advice from some of the witnesses.

The result of the game was 7-2. In the first period honors were about equal; but Coleman gained considerably in the last two periods of the game.

A large number of people came up from Frank and Bellevue to witness the game.

On Saturday night a charity game was played between Frank and Blairmore teams on the Blairmore rink. The object of the game was to raise funds to assist Mr. Sherat, one of the week entered hospital suffering from acute pneumonia. Some $15 was netted for the good cause, and the game which was a good clean one throughout resulted in a victory for Frank by a score of 6 to 3.

Such a step on the part of hockey promoters is one deserving of every praise, and in this connection not only those figuring actively in the game are recognized friends of the hockey boys, but others have freely offered on many occasions to render any assistance necessary.

In connection with Mr. Sherat, Dr. Mackay, of the Frank hospital, offered to attend him during his illness and supply a nurse, all free of any charges whatever, and for this special case has secured a nurse from Edmonton.

Who's Who in Blairmore?

The Coleman Bulletin of last week states: "A Blairmore ex-bank clerk has apparently found something mighty attractive in Coleman—in addition to pure water and bracing air. Whatever his first, he seems to think it the best ever and is standing guard with manning men and jealous eye."

The party referred to above is now wearing a blush that would cast a shadow on a scarlet rose, and we understand that the tables have so completely turned around that Coleman "source" of attraction is similarly attracted to the Metropolis.

A Finger's WorthMore Than a Heart

For having her little finger crushed by the slamming of the door of a railway coach a Seattle woman was awarded $22,200 damages. It is reasonable to expect that she will now have many aspirants for the rest of her hand.

THE ROSE COMB WHITE LEGHORN.

Our Canadian cousins up there through the two winds whistle through their whickers are slow horse sense when they breed Rose Comb White Leghorns in quantities, for they are great winter layers, and that low rose comb can't freeze off like the tender points on the single comb, a condition that no often knocks the egg record. But our friends of the snowdrift land are not the only fanciers who to this bird that matures so early and lays so late, for it is claimed there are 8,000 breeders of this variety in the United States, and the number is increasing. But whence that rose comb? That rose comb comes from the Hamburg as the result of a cross made in this country about fifty years ago, the Single Comb White Leghorn

OH, YOU FALL!
Go base away your summer plum, you autumn days are here.
And base your straw hat on the book, it's cool and grander here.
Go to the more safe away.
No longer you must grieve
In pushing that dirt thing around
In that back breaking strain
You and others are enduring
As they your mansion pass.
Now put the garden spade away
And polish up your gun.
The hunting season has arrived.
Hoary for fully fun!

"But listen—oh, our fun is smashed—
Just listen to Maria!
She's yelling clear across the street
As if she was a fra!
"Come, clean that carpet on the floor.
That acropeste must come down.
I've got to get my house all cleaned
Before the rest in town.
"Here, clean that attic quick for me,
And clean the cellar too.
And don't forget, with other things,
To do the laundry faster too.
"And when you've got the house all done
And washed my poodle Nell!
Go hang yourself upon the line,
You shall dust you well!"

KURIOS FROM KORRESPONDENTS

Q. Where did the Belgian hare originate, what is the origin of the Flemish giant, and which is the better rabbit for market? A. The Belgian came from Belgium or northern France. The Flemish is only a Belgian bred for size, and this gives it a corner and least duly favored must than the other, which, for these reasons, sells better.

Q. Please give the natural bill of fare of the ruffed grouse or pheasant. A. Wild berries and blueberries, acorns, chestnuts, beechnuts, hazelnuts, seeds, browse, beetles, weevils, worms, sawfly larvae, apple caterpillars, hickory nuts and other grains. To supply this insect ration for pheasants raised artificially our English kozoens skin a horse, let him on blood, bury him or surface and either the maggots for the birds when they wiggle through. The maggot method isn't in vogue here.

Q. Why do you find lay the more and the larger eggs, Rose Comb or Single Comb Leghorns, and which variety of Leghorns do you consider most profitable? A. The Belgian, comes the Single Comb White Leghorn.

Q. How can I breed a farm, brown comb of uniform type on S. G. Brown Leghorn cockerels, and a male with a straight, firm, smooth, fine, five pointed comb to a hen with a straight, five pointed comb.

Q. Why are not more Aylesbury ducks bred in America? A. Because the Pekings matures quicker, picks easier and has that yellow-butter color so popular in this country.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

The Chinese are trying to get a market for their dried bird eggs in this country. It requires seventy yolks to make a pound of the dried product and the whiter of 200 eggs to make a pound of egg albumen. The dried yolks sell at 31 cents a pound, dried yolks at 24 cents and egg albumen at 14 cents. Customers for cheap? Egg customers and price for poultry eggs higher a place and market quotations will generally show feeds higher also. To make a reasonable profit the poultryman must adjust his prices according to the cost.

When an exploding incubator lamp set fire to her clothing Mrs. William Jones, near Thicket, burned and injured and smothered the flames with blankets and saved her life. Fire extinguishers and beds should be kept handy for such emergencies.

The idea that so many going into poultry will never come true in a country where the population grows so fast and where the beef trust has the people by the throat. Chicken and eggs have largely taken the place of beef in many homes, and there is no healthier food especially when home raised.

It is claimed 70,000 chicks were killed in the shell by concussion from the twelve inch guns of the Delaware while practicing off the eastern shore near Norfolk, Va. CONQUEST OF THE AIR.

First Public Flight of an Aeroplane in This Country.

In "The Curtiss Aviation Book" Glenn Curtiss describes the first public aeroplane flight in America, in the days before any one had ever heard of the young Yankee inventor, and he was experimenting with Alexander Graham Bell and others.

"Baldwin climbed into the seat, took the control in hand, and we cranked the motor. When we released our hold of the machine, it sped into the air like a scared rabbit for two or three hundred feet and then, much to our joy, it jumped into the air. This was what we had worked for through many long months, and naturally we watched the brief and uncertain course of Baldwin with a good deal of emotion.

"Rising to a height of six or seven feet, Baldwin flew the unaided of distance of 318 feet 11 inches! Then he came down indignantly on one wing. As we learned afterwards, the frail framework of the tail had bent and the machine had dropped over on its side and dropped on the machine, which gave away and caused the wing to turn completely around.

"It had taken just seven weeks to build the machine and get it ready for the trial and taken just about twenty seconds to smash it. But a great thing had been accomplished. We had achieved the first public flight of a heavier than air machine in America!"

THE FIRST WATCHES.

They Had Weights, Not Springs, and Were a Big Size.

At first the watch was about the size of a dessert plate. It had weights and was used as a "pocket clock." The earliest known use of the modern name occurs in the record of 1552, which mentions that Edward VI. had "one larum or watch of iron, the case being like a wooden gill, with two plumets of lead."

The first watches may readily be supposed to have been of rude execution. The earliest improvement, the substitution of springs for weights, was in 1550. The earliest springs were not coiled, but only straight pieces of steel. Early watches had only one hand, and being wound up twice a day, they could not be expected to keep time nearer than fifteen or twenty minutes in the twelve hours. The dial was silver or brass. The cases had no crystals, but opened at the back and front and were four or five inches in diameter.

A plain watch cost the equivalent of $1,000 in our currency, and after one year it would be sold a year to make it exchange.

Exasperating.

A stuttering salesman called on a New York buyer with an excellent proposition. In well turned sentences he proceeded to lay before the buyer his superb argument. But, alas, in every well turned sentence there was a "be" and "ran," and over these the salesman stuttered pitifully.

"The buyer before whom he was pleading was a caustic, nasty sort of chap, and after five minutes of stuttering at a station where the salesman was foundering most dreadfully, the buyer held up his hand and said:

"I'm afraid I can't understand you. Call again when you're sober."

The salesman turned scarlet with mortification and rage. "B-b-but—" "No," said the buyer, waving him resolutely toward the door, "not now when you're sober."

MISS TARBELL ON SUFFRAGE.

The Ballot Not So Important as General Efficiency.

"Personally I am rather indifferent about suffrage," said Miss Ida Tarbell recently. "Whether women vote or not is a matter of comparatively small moment in the great evolution of woman and humanity. The important thing is to develop efficiency, and there is no sex in that, for men and women alike must learn to make efficient human beings of themselves. That applies to every one. The young married woman must make a profession out of her home life, not sit back in archaic laziness. And she has one of the most difficult professions in the world. The young unmarried woman should find the work in which she can be most useful and then she should develop herself along that line."

"I do not at all believe in marriage for every woman," said Miss Tarbell with quiet emphasis. "It is practically a crime to marry without a foundation of true love, and I am absolutely convinced that marrying merely for the sake of marriage defeats the whole intention of the purpose. Of course, I believe that most of the marriages that are failures go to pieces just because of the lack of efficiency of either the man or the woman or both."

Scott's Narrow Escape.

The world had a narrow escape of never having known a Sir Walter Scott. When a tiny babe he was left in charge of a maid, but the girl's heart was in Edinburgh, whither she wanted to go to join her lover. She was, however, compelled to stay and look after the infant at Sandy Knowe. The girl regarded her charge as an obstacle to be removed and afterward confessed that she carried young Scott up to the crags under a strong temptation of the devil, as she expressed it, fully intending to cut his throat with her scissors and bury him under the moss.

BOUNDARY LINE MARKS.

These Between Hanover and Holland on the Rhine Are Unique.

Many of the international boundary marks display a sentimental as well as a practical character. The famous "pillar of Paris wall," which marks the line between Russia and Siberia, has been celebrated in song and story. This boundary mark stands between Bessarabia, in Russia, and Transylvania, in Rumania, and Transylvania, in Rumania, and Transylvania, in Rumania.

The boundary marks along our northern frontier, separating us from Canada, are of a most practical sort. For many hundreds of miles the St. Lawrence river and the great lakes form the natural boundaries, but there is a vast stretch of prairie land beyond with no natural demarcation. The boundary marks here are pillars of iron and wood placed at intervals of one mile. They have been alternately supplied by the two governments and may be seen from the Lake of the Woods to the Red river valley. Beyond that point the marks are mounds of earth and cairns of stones.

The stranger of European frontier lines is that marking the boundary between Hanover and Holland, where it crosses the Rhine. A row of pontoons lies across the river, chained bow and stern, inasmuch as the dividing line between the two governments must be seen from the Lake of the Woods to the Red river valley. Beyond that point the marks are mounds of earth and cairns of stones.

The effect is most striking. Austria has a frontier line of about 3,800 miles of which 2,096 is land. Every mile of this must be guarded against the movements of Austria's neighbors. Germany is in a similar situation, since her land frontiers, bordering upon Russia, Austria, Switzerland, France, Holland and Belgium, are 2,255 miles in extent, and by the larger portion is not protected by mountains, rivers or any other natural barriers. The sea coast of Germany, however, is only 744 miles in extent.—Harper's.

DRESS OF MALTESE WOMEN.

Silk Hooded Cloaks Hide Face and Form From the Curious.

The dress of the Maltese is very singular, and that of the women striking in the extreme. When abroad they are all arrayed in black. They put on over their other dress a robe or loose skirt of that color, brought up high on the bosom, and in place of bonnets their heads are covered with a black silk mantle which invests their shoulders and descends halfway to the knees.

The part which covers the head is furnished with a piece of whalebone in the form of a hoop, which keeps it in position and prevents the silk from dropping over the eyes. One hand, placed inside, is always necessary to hold to the hoop, and the other hand is often held under its folds, only a forefinger being suffered to appear through the opening left for the purpose. Of course, under such mufflers little can be seen of the beauties of form or feature if a Maltese nymph happens to possess them.

The eyes and a moving, pallid black figure are all that can be distinguished. But sometimes the fair one deigns to exhibit her face to a curious gazer in place of expressing herself the privilege of seeing, and features good humored, rather pleasing than handsome and irradiated by a pair of eyes, sparkling eyes, are displayed to the beholder. The complexion is a dark olive, partaking a little of a sort of mottled tinge. The mantle is obviously borrowed, or rather it is designed to be so, from the age and people. It answers to the veil of eastern ladies.

For the Children

The Cowled Monk's Head, Cooney Canyon, New Mexico.

Almost every western state has one or more natural statues. Some are carved so perfectly by the action of the elements as to be startling in their expressions. One of the most striking is the "Monk's Head," in Cooney canyon, New Mexico. A freak of nature which brings out in clear relief a man's face, the head appearing above a hooded figure of a monk, and at a distance, sharply outlined against the sky, it seems impossible that it is not the work of some ancient people who may have wrought upon it with crude tools, yet obtaining a singularly strong and virile expression of countenance.

Origin of Words.

"Towwow" comes from the North American Indians. The word lous comes from the Low Dutch and means master.

Kildap comes from the napping or stealing of a kid, gypsy word for "Calabash," a prison; picaroon, a pirate; palaver, to talk, are all Spanish.

"A rum chap" is simply a gypsy lad. It has no relation to the product of the still.

Pal is a brother, and "ronk" for nose, comes from the spouting fountain of the Romanesque.

Demijohn comes from the Arabic damgham, itself taken from the Persian glass making town of Demagham.

The common slang word "mash" is from a beautiful gypsy word, "mash," which means "to charm by the eyes."

Why spoozy when he is making love? Simply because he is a "loofel," which also means spoon.

A Diplomatic Fisherman.

A king once bought a string of fish from a poor fisherman and in return gave him a bag of gold coins. The fisherman swung the fortune over his shoulder and was about to depart when he noticed a single coin had fallen to the ground. Carefully picking the bag on the ground, the man stooped and took possession of the coin and put it in the bag with the fortune.

"Are you a miser?" asked the king. "Were you afraid one of my servants would get it?"

"Not so," replied the fisherman. "But the coin bears on one side the name of a king, on the other the portrait of a king, on my king. I would not have one of the other defiled by being trampled upon."

The king was so pleased with this ready answer that he gave the fisherman another big load of gold and sent him rejoicing on his way.

Dr. Warnock, P. P. on Naval Question

Mr. David Warnock (Macdonald) was glad to have an opportunity at last of speaking on the momentous question now before the House. I have heard the treasury benches that Canada cannot have a navy. But, Sir, listening as I have to almost every speech delivered on both sides of the House, I have come to the conclusion that there are more than a few admirals sitting in the Canadian House of Commons than will meet the requirements of all the navies of the British Empire for many years to come. If our German friends have any sense of humor, they must have had many a quiet laugh while reading the discourses of these would-be naval experts on naval strategy. I have no theories on naval strategy, but I do entertain deep convictions on what I think is Canada's duty in the matter of naval defense.

Listening as I did to the speeches of hon. gentlemen opposite I was much impressed by the diversity of opinion prevailing among them. Some hon. members tried to lead the House to believe that the Government policy is a contribution now, to the following later by a Canadian navy; others that the policy of the night bon, the Prime Minister is one of continued contribution; and others that it is a contribution now, and that there will be nothing further until we are given a voice in Imperial politics. It was all very edifying, and I am sorry the Prime Minister found it necessary to impose the ban of silence on his followers: but I am surprised he did not do so earlier in the debate.

I do not purpose quoting the 1910 speeches of hon. members opposite. The pages of "Hansard" are already replete with quotations from these speeches and I agree to some extent with the hon. member for Brandon (Mr. Aikins) when he says that what hon. members said in 1909 and 1910 is of little consequence. In most cases that is true; but there are some exceptions. I believe that the right hon. Mr. Prime Minister, the leader of the Opposition, and the Minister of Trade and Commerce (Mr. Foster) laid down sound principles in their 1910 speeches, and that these speeches are the best and most complete in answer to their speech of today. I am sure that both these hon. gentlemen deep down in their hearts still believe what they said in 1910 to be true. Their words of today are not the words of the patriots of 1910, but are dictated by the influence of political expediency, and in departing from their principles of 1910, I believe they have made a great mistake. In my humble opinion, their policy of contribution is all wrong and will not find favour in the eyes of the people in Canada.

I have said that I had no theories to offer on naval strategy; but I desire to put on record the opinion of eminent men representing both sides of politics in the United Kingdom and who are well qualified to judge correctly what is the best policy for Canada and the other overseas dominions to adopt in giving effective aid of the Empire. I quote from the speech of the right hon. Winston Churchill at the Shipwrights' banquet, on the eve of Mr. Borden's visit to London.

If the main development of the past ten years has been the concentration of the British fleet in decisive theatres, it seems to me—and I dare say to you not unlikely that the main development of the next ten years will be the growth of the effective naval forces in the great dominions overseas. Then we shall be able to make what we think will be found to be the true division of labour between the Mother country and her daughter states—that we should maintain the sea supremacy against all comers at the decisive point, and that they should guard and patrol all the real of British Empire.

Here is a message of hope and good cheer from Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va., who is the mother of eighteen children. Mrs. Martin was cured of stomach trouble and constipation by Chamberlain's Tablets after five years of suffering, and now recommends these tablets to the public, sold by all druggists.

The World's Christian Citizenship Conference

One hundred among the ablest speakers of the world one from each of the principal countries of the world and more than one from some countries, notably China, Japan, France, England, Canada and the United States have been definitely secured to deliver addresses at the world's Christian citizenship conference, Portland, Oregon, June 29 to July 9, 1913. President-elect Wilson heads the list in America, Editor James A. Macdonald that in Canada and Prof. Richard Ledge that in the British Isles. Prof. Ithaka and Motoda come from Japan, Ny Poon Chay and Dr. Isaac T. Headland from China, Dr. Armonag Halkizoglu from Turkey and Charles Merle-d'Aubigne from France. Men in public life, ministers, missionaries, educators, philanthropists, sociologists, moral reformers all recognized as eminent statesmen constitute the list.

Fully ten thousand delegates representing communities, mission boards and various Christian and patriotic bodies in this and other countries have already been appointed to attend this world assembly and others are being appointed at the rate of from one to two thousand a month. This world gathering is not to be a convention whose action is to be binding upon all who attend and participate, but a conference for the comparison of views and the mutual exchange of practical ideas of leaders of Christian thought and action the world over.

Simultaneous sectional conferences are to be held on Peace, immigration, Prison Reform, Social Purity, socialism, Capital and Labor, Mormonism, Marriage and Divorce, the Weekly Rest Day, Public Education, Personal Evangelism and Social Service, Christian Government, etc. with Gov. Osborne of Michigan, Sublime Convent West of Oregon, Lieutenant Governor Wallace of California, Ex-U. S. Commissioner of Immigration the Hon. Robt. F. Wathcote, Dr. David Starr Jordan and Benjamin Ide Wheeler and others of their type in charge.

It is discussion, such as is planned, for this world assembly at Portland, of public issues by leading men of the times that has kindled revolutionized the world. Not on the proposed discussion by the array of talent secured for the approaching world's Christian citizenship conference will fail to create a mighty influence for good or evil upon public sentiment the world over.

Railway companies generally are promising, we are informed, unusual concessions in fare and other accommodations to all attending this conference. The general director is Dr. J. S. Martin, 623 604 Boulevard Building Pittsburgh, Pa., who will answer all inquiries and furnish self-explanatory literature relating to the conference.

Rev. W. H. Irwin of Bellevue is the local representative in this district for the convention and will be glad to communicate any information to anyone interested also to meet any who would like to be appointed delegates.

To Give Place To Edmonton

Edmonton, Alta., Feb.—Barracks of the Royal North West Mounted Police at Fort Saskatchewan will be abandoned by the Dominion government within 30 days, when the quarters, erected in Edmonton at a cost of more than $200,000, are to be formally opened. Inspector E. A. MacDonnell, officer commanding, is arranging to transfer the contingent to this city. The new barracks accommodate 30 men, and there are quarters for a large number of horses. The guard houses at the fort will be retained indefinitely. The site, comprising 300 acres, has been acquired by the provincial government, which is planning to erect a penal institution there. In the early days the old fort was the scene of numerous encounters between the Indians and the mounted police and it has housed many noted criminals, some of whom paid the extreme penalty to expiate their crimes.

There is no better medicine made for colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions, aids expectoration, and restores the system to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

A Record Bag

On Saturday night last Googy's store at Coleman was raided by Constable Grant and Corporal Meade, where was found a complete opium outfit, together with several of the Celestials sitting back cozily in the armless armchair watching the wreaths as they ascended in useless volumes. The smokers were "bagged" in the same manner as other birds are bagged in the open season; but circumstances are always different during restrictive periods and the Chinese fraternity of Coleman were forthwith lined up before Inspector Belcher and Magistrate Morrison Monday and with their usual leniency caused the Chinks to dig up of their "chin junks" the nice little sum of $123.50 which was necessary to assist in the carrying out of justice against the opium traffic.

Do you know that more real danger lurks in a common cold than in any other of the minor ailments? The safe way is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a thoroughly reliable preparation, and rid yourself of the cold as quickly as possible. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

Afternoon Tea

A very enjoyable afternoon tea was given on Thursday evening by Mrs. Green in aid of the Catholic Church. Mrs. H. Gibb, Miss Mary Sustrum and other ladies waited on the numerous visiting friends, who all appreciated the delightful refreshment. This is certainly a credit to the hostess, and the fact that such a considerably great number of friends responded to her invitation shows Mrs. Green's popularity with our town folks.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and have abundant reason for it as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

For You—Horse Sense. For Your Horse—Confidence

It's plain every day horse sense and dollar sense to have your horse calked with ROVE

RING-POINT CALKS

Improved Tool-Steel Centers. If you value him and his work you must keep him sharp and in working order. He will have confidence when he strikes a nail and know if his shoes have Ring-Point Calks. They are stronger and heavier than old-time bar calks. That's no saving. They last twice as long. Let me show you a pair of calks—see how they will pay for a pile of nails—or more Rove Calks when you need them. You can furnish screw calks with a week's rest center, but I'd rather not. You want calks to stay there, and wear. You want Ring-Point Calks. With a rugged suggest of PURSET TOOL WORKS, RIGHT THE POINT CALK CENTER—the whole length. This makes them sharp at first, keeps them sharp to the last. Get on the saving side of shoeing bills. Let me show you a set of Rove Calks today.
